

A PARENT PRESENTATION 'WHY WE NEED TO REDEFINE SUCCESS TO HELP OUR TEENS SHINE & THRIVE'

Karen Claridge is a parent of two teenage boys, a Student Coach and Presenter with an extensive background in Graduate Recruitment. She specialises in facilitating Coaching Programs and Talks to empower and inspire students and parents to go 'beyond surviving to thriving' during these landmark years.

In this one hour presentation, Karen discusses how we as parents, can positively impact our teen's future by redefining and embracing a new way of thinking about a concept of 'success', in keeping with the radical changes of the 21st century.

Karen points to a major 'game-changer' in the employment market and explains why academic achievement alone, is no longer the guarantee to job opportunities it once was.

She shares with us practical tips and tangible steps we can take in our role as parents, to help guide them in their own journey towards a bright future in a fast-changing world.

For further information about this Talk and other inspirational Presentations, please contact Karen Claridge.

